

HP Vertica Product Documentation

Beginning with HP Vertica 7.0, all product documentation is available here on the HP Vertica website:

<http://www.vertica.com/documentation>

You can view and download documentation for all currently-supported releases on this site. As of HP Vertica 7.0, updates to documentation will appear only on www.vertica.com; they will no longer be available at the SSO site.

Note that you can also access HP Vertica ecosystem and hardware documentation using the myVertica customer portal (<http://my.vertica.com>). You must have a valid myVertica username and password to access this site.
