Dear HP Software Customer,

Hewlett-Packard (HP) is announcing discontinuance of all versions of Autonomy Records Manager (ARM) 12.5x, formerly known as CA Records Manager and FileSurf effective as of the dates set forth below. And HP is very happy to announce the availability of HP Records Manager (HP RM) 8.1, the successor product to ARM.

This letter is for ARM 12.5x support customers worldwide, to inform you of our end of support plans.

In December of 2013, HP announced its intent to consolidate the HP TRIM, ARM and Meridio products as a result of the Autonomy acquisition. With the successor product, HP Records Manager 8.1, generally available today, this notification letter is being sent to ARM 12.5x customers worldwide to make you aware of the product discontinuance decision and to inform you of what steps HP is taking to help protect your investment in ARM. This notification is intended to help you plan for available migration opportunities when it makes the best business sense for you and your organization.

Please note that all ARM 12.5x customers with active support contracts are eligible to migrate to HP Records Manager 8.1. Specific migration program details will be made available in a separate communication.

HP wants to ensure that this migration is a positive experience for you. HP intends to do this through a program that consists of:

- ARM to HP Records Manager 8.1x migration tools that ease migration efforts.
- HP Professional Services and certified partners that can help you with your migration.
- Several HP Education courses to train your administrators and end-users on HP Records Manager 8.1x.
- New features and functions in HP Records Manager 8.1 retaining much of the functionality from ARM and additional new capabilities for HP Records Manager 8.1. customers including:
    - New HTML5 Web client (supports laptops and mobile devices)
    - Advanced disposition processing
    - Multi-jurisdiction retention
    - Storage optimization
    - Integration with Office 365
    - Complete SDK including APIs and web services to support integrations into other applications and solutions

For more information, go to hp.com/go/software

Hewlett-Packard is committed to making the migration as smooth as possible. By consolidating onto HP Records Manager, HP will be able to deliver greater return for your ongoing investment both in terms of value and innovation.

APPENDIX A: Definitions

This product discontinuance is covered by the HP Software Support Foundation Data Sheet applicable to the products referenced herein.

Then click: HP Software Support Foundation Data Sheet.

Product Support
Product Support is the reactive engagement of regional support resources, in accordance with your purchased support plan, for the resolution of product defects, plus product enhancements for a specific product version. This includes investigation of newly reported defects and if appropriate, development of defect fixes and making these available for customers via patches. The HP Software product teams will review and either approve or deny requests for defect fixes and enhancements (including additional support for newly-released operating system versions).

While HP Software investigates all problems and issues raised for products covered under Product Support, customers may be required to install the most current version or patches as part of the troubleshooting process.

Version Maturity may apply to specific versions of HP Software products. Version Maturity means that, for a specific product version, no further enhancements or changes to functionality is planned, nor are any further platform refreshes planned in order to update that product version to support current or future operating systems, operating system versions or hardware platforms.

End-of-Support Date
End-of-Support Date is the last date Software maintenance, installation and configuration assistance, and other standard support services will be accepted for the specified product release. Current patches for the version of the HP Software reaching EOS will remain available for electronic download for a reasonable period of time.

Self-Help Support
Self-Help Support is an integral component of all HP Software Support contracts. Self-Help Support consists of web-based access to the online support Knowledge Base, which contains technical information if available for HP Software products including white papers, existing patches and known problems for a specific product version.

In some instances support for specific HP Software product(s) and/or version(s) may run longer than the support for underlying operating system(s), adjacent/integrated application(s) or version(s). In this event, it is HP's intent to communicate with affected HP Software product/product versions customers in a timely manner. However, there are cases where HP does not receive notification of the End-of-Support for these products (operating system(s) or adjacent/integrated application(s), or version(s)) in advance of the general public. In any case, should the underlying operating system(s), adjacent/integrated application(s) or version(s) become unsupported by its developer, support for the affected HP Software product/product versions will immediately be limited to self-solve support available through the HP Autonomy Customer Support Center (customers.autonomy.com), and Telephone Support associated with questions concerning a product's/product version's functionality and/or interoperability in line with the said product's/product version's original parameters/requirements at the time of release. Any product updates and/or fixes will be limited to those already available. No additional updates, patches or fixes will be engineered. Should said product/product version operate or integrate with other still supported, underlying operating system(s), adjacent/integrated application(s) or version(s), support for said product/product version on any remaining supported platform(s), supported adjacent/integrated application(s), or supported version(s) will continue unaffected, or through the planned End-of-Support date, if one has been announced.
